Advance Your Career with Healthcare IT Technician (HIT) Certification

CompTIA

HEALTHCARE IT
TECHNICIAN™

CompTIA HIT covers the knowledge and skills required to support healthcare IT systems in U.S. clinical settings.

CAREER ADVANCEMENT

CompTIA HIT certification helps you advance toward a rewarding career in healthcare IT. Health information technician jobs are projected to grow 22% by 2022.*

HIGHER SALARIES

The average annual salary for IT professionals able to implement, deploy and support healthcare IT systems is $70,000. Put your verified skills to work towards a rewarding career.

HIGH DEMAND

Medical facilities are rapidly converting paper records to electronic health records (EHR). Technicians are in demand to help support the implementation process.

VENDOR NEUTRAL

Earning your HIT certification gives you a vendor-neutral credential that qualifies you to work in an office, clinical or hospital setting. It also validates competency in U.S. regulatory requirements, healthcare terminology and understanding of the practice workflow.

JOB SATISFACTION

76% of CompTIA certified IT professionals expressed satisfaction with their job.

“The scope of the HIT exam was impressive. The variety of questions covering both technical topics and hospital regulations proved to be a comprehensive approach.”
